

PICO HOUSE

1869-1870

First three-story building in Los Angeles, the Pico House hotel was built by Pio de Jesus Pico (1801-1894). Pico's life spans the city's history under Spanish, Mexican, and U.S. rule: born in the San Gabriel Mission, he served as the last Mexican governor of Alta California in 1845-46 and became one of California's wealthiest landowners. Pico commissioned the hotel to attract visitors to the growing pueblo and beautify the historic city plaza. Designed by architect Ezra F. Kysor in the Italianate style, the hotel boasted eighty-two furnished rooms, twenty-one parlors, and a French restaurant, making it the most luxurious hotel at its time.

* * *

El primer edificio de tres pisos, el hotel Pico House fue construido por Pio de Jesus Pico (1801-1894). Nacido en la Mision de San Gabriel, su vida coincide con el period Español, Mexicano, y Americano: fue ultimo gobernador Mexicano de Alta California en 1845-46 y uno de los hombres mas ricos del estado. Mando construir el hotel para atraer visitantes al pueblo y embellecer la plaza historica. Diseñado por el arquitecto Ezra F. Kysor en el estilo "Italianate," el hotel tenia ochenta y dos habitaciones, veinte y uno salas, y un restaurante frances, haciendolo el hotel mas lujoso de su epoca.

El Pueblo de Los Angeles

PICO HOUSE

1869-1870

The first three-story building in Los Angeles, the Pico House hotel was built by Don Pio de Jesus Pico (1801-1894). Pico's life spans the city's history under Spanish, Mexican, and U.S. rule: born in the San Gabriel Mission, he served as the last Mexican governor of Alta California (today's California) in 1845-46 and would go on to become one of the state's wealthiest landowners. Pico commissioned the hotel to attract visitors to the growing pueblo and beautify the historic city plaza. Designed by architect Ezra F. Kysor in the Italianate style, the hotel boasted eighty-two furnished rooms, twenty-one parlor's, and a French restaurant.

* * *

El primer edificio de tres pisos, el hotel Pico House fue construido por Don Pio de Jesus Pico (1801-1894). Nacido en la Mision de San Gabriel, su vida coincide con el period Espanol, Mexicano, y Americano: fue ultimo gobernador Mexicano de Alta California en 1845-46 y uno de los hombres mas ricos del estado. Mando construir el hotel en 1870 para atraer visitatantes al pueblo y embellecer la plaza historica. Diseñado por el arquitecto Ezra F. Kysor en el estilo "Italianate," el hotel tenia ochenta y dos habitaciones, viente y uno salas, y un restaurante frances.

Sign Shop: (213) 473-7812

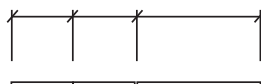

Hours of Operation: Monday-Thursday, 5:30AM - 4:00PM

Vandal Proof Bolt

1/8" 1/8" 1/4"

T-Nut

Profile

Double Sided Tape and Silicone

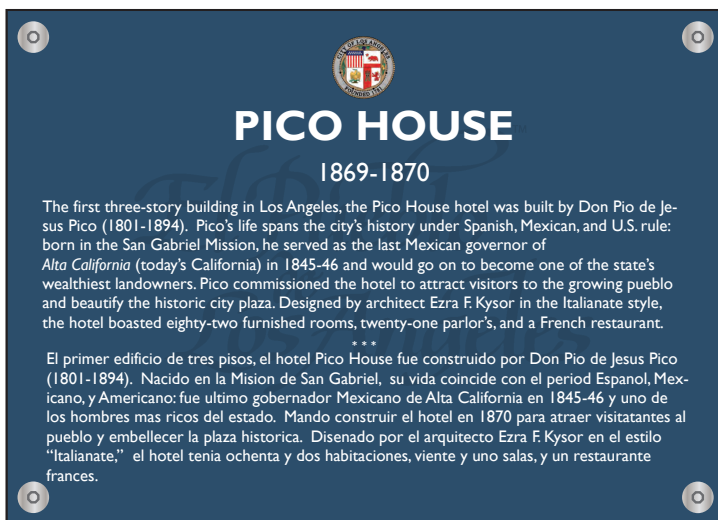

Digital Print on ACM with Anti-Graffiti

ACM Bonded to ePVC Substrate

Sign Shop: (213) 473-7812

Hours of Operation: Monday-Thursday, 5:30AM - 4:00PM

PICO HOUSE

1869-1870

The first three-story building in Los Angeles, the Pico House hotel was built by Don Pio de Jesus Pico (1801-1894). Pico's life spans the city's history under Spanish, Mexican, and U.S. rule: born in the San Gabriel Mission, he served as the last Mexican governor of Alta California (today's California) in 1845-46 and would go on to become one of the state's wealthiest landowners. Pico commissioned the hotel to attract visitors to the growing pueblo and beautify the historic city plaza. Designed by architect Ezra F. Kysor in the Italianate style, the hotel boasted eighty-two furnished rooms, twenty-one parlors, and a French restaurant.

El primer edificio de tres pisos, el hotel Pico House fue construido por Don Pio de Jesus Pico (1801-1894). Nacido en la Mision de San Gabriel, su vida coincide con el period Espanol, Mexicano, y Americano: fue ultimo gobernador Mexicano de Alta California en 1845-46 y uno de los hombres mas ricos del estado. Mando construir el hotel en 1870 para atraer visitatantes al pueblo y embellecer la plaza historica. Diseñado por el arquitecto Ezra F. Kysor en el estilo "Italianate," el hotel tenia ochenta y dos habitaciones, veinte y uno salas, y un restaurante frances.

Second Panel

ACM Bonded to
Third Panel to add Rigidity

Third Panel

ePVC Used to Add
Material for T-Nut

Sign Shop: (213) 473-7812

Hours of Operation: Monday-Thursday, 5:30AM - 4:00PM

